

FAST Supported Hardware List

5/15/2008

Listed below is the recommended hardware list authorized by FAST. This list does not finalize the type of hardware available rather it defines the hardware that is most stable and has a proven track record for reliability and longevity.

When investigating a new printer, please contact FAST as we can help determine your printing needs and find the best product based on our experience for the task.

Also note that the below Workstations and Laptops are not the same “off-the-shelf” configuration as listed on the Dell website. FAST custom builds our machines to our environment and user needs. Please consult us if purchasing a computer outside of the Cascade process.
